HARLEY FULLER

Harley Fuller is the current Head Men's Basketball Coach at Mohawk Valley Community College. Coming into his fourth year this season at MV, Coach Fuller has recruited and developed 9 players that have gone onto play at the NCAA 4 year level. In just his second year at the helm, Harley led the hawks to a 27-5 record, a Mountain Valley Conference title and an NJCAA Elite 8 appearance. Prior to MV, Harley served as an Assistant Coach at the Division 1 level at both Siena College and Mount St. Mary's University from 2015-2020. He spearheaded player development efforts that aided in the progression of 3 player of the year award winners, Jalen Pickett (Current Denver Nuggets Point Guard), Manny Camper, and Junior Robinson (Former Atlanta Hawks Point Guard.) Coach Fuller has hosted his own basketball camps, clinics and workouts in New York since 2009 for more than 1,000 of Upstate New York's players ranging from ages 5-17 years old. His programs "Harley Fuller Basketball Camp" and "Upstate Basketball Camp" have been heavily supported in the Fulton County area since their inception in 2009. Prior to getting into coaching, Harley spent 5 seasons playing professional basketball, split between Germany and Argentina. In May of 2023, Coach Fuller was inducted into the New York State Basketball Hall of Fame for his career both a player and coach. Harley has a 7 year old son, Grayson Fuller and currently lives in Schenectady, New York.
